Descrição

Perfil pretendido ARE YOU READY FOR A NEW CHALLENGE?

At Celonis we help our customers to go from vision to action as fast as a digital-native company. 95% of effort in companies' operations is wasted on friction within the transactional systems that run core business processes. This makes companies miss their goals and opportunities. Join us in the Celonis Product Team as we pursue our disruptive new vision with the Celonis Intelligent Business Cloud, that works like a GPS for our customers' operations: sense friction, decide how to fix it, and act in real time.

Do you possess an outstanding blend of business and technical savvy, critical thinking and tactical execution? Are you a hands-on leader? Are you passionate about evangelizing a transformative vision for Celonis' new solutions? As the Product Manager - Real Time Data Integration you will collaborate with product and development teams in the application groups to develop and evolve data integration services. Moreover you will contribute to the mission of delivering innovative cloud services at scale and built a close customer relationship to our key innovation partners and drive new solutions from early adopter programs to a general availability.
